MISSIONARIES EATEN.

Details of the eating by cannibals on February 5 of Rev. Horatio Hopkins and his assistant, Rev. Hector Laurie McPherson, missionaries of the Presbyterian Church on Savage Island, were brought by the brigantine Mary E. Wickham, which arrived yesterday at Kaituma, Wab., from the Tonga Islands, in the South Sea.

While the barkentine lay at Tangatapu, in the Tonga Islands, a canoe load of mission natives from Savage Island arrived at Pasa, bringing news of the massacre.

The natives said that Hopkins and McPherson were teaching in the mission building, which stands on the beach in the little harbor of Savage Island, when 200 unconverted savages, howling war cries and brandishing clubs and spears, descended on them and took 13 prisoners.

The missionaries had 20 converts in training at the time, and only 9 of them escaped.

Both missionaries were bound with thongs and left lying on the beach in the tropical sun for several hours, while the savages took the native captives inland.

The cannibals then returned to the beach and carried the missionaries on a litter to the crater of the extinct volcano Vanua, in the center of the island. There for two days and nights they held a corroboree. At times their dancing and reveling would be silenced by the fugitive Christian natives.

While most of the cannibals were sleeping the captive natives escaped. Their going was hastened by the sight of two of the cannibal chiefs drinking the missionaries' clothes. The clergymen had already been eaten.

The Wickham brought news of a general revival of the old-time religious customs in the Tonga, the Society, the Solomon and the Cook groups. The natives are holding dances and feasting on human flesh as they did in the days before the white men interfered.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Louise Loeffler, a high school girl, of 14, slipped as she was descending the steep aisle in the gallery of the Lincoln Square Theatre, New York, last night, pitched against the railing and fell headlong to the orchestra pit fifty feet below. Her skull was fractured and she was injured internally so seriously that death will result.

As the girl's body came hurtling down, the audience was thrown into an uproar and several women fainted. Striking the edge of a woman's hat near the center aisle, the body sent the hat spinning, then crumpled up in the aisle.

Louise, over her mother's protest, went to the theatre with two school girl companions, and stood up at the back of the gallery until she slipped three vacant seats in the front row. She preceded her companions in a dash for them, when her high heels tripped her and she fell.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG MAN.

George W. Jenkins, of Gatchsville, Pa., killed himself Thursday because he thought his sweetheart, Miss Lottie Pyle, was going to marry another man. Miss Pyle went to see the body, and when she looked into the face she exclaimed: "O, why did I treat him so meanly. I know I treated him mean, but it was all to cure him from drinking. We were to be married shortly, and I had no intention of marrying anyone else." After this she fell into a faint. Jenkins had written the girl a letter, which he never sent, reproaching her for breaking off the engagement and asking her not to marry the other man. About a year ago a brother, S. Franklin Jenkins was found frozen to death in Montana. He also left a letter addressed to his sweetheart reproaching her for jilting him.

80-YEAR FIGHT DECIDED.

The Tichborne trial and the more recent Drace case were very bitter, petty affairs compared with the "Battle of the Standards," which has just been settled by the British House of Lords after 80 odd years. Since the reign of George IV. a fight has been going on as to who has the right to be the official standard bearer to the king of Scotland. It was somewhere in the eleventh or twelfth century that the honor was granted for the first time to Sir Alexander Carron for an act of bravery on the field of battle. At the same time the family name was changed to Strymgar, or "good fighter." Mr. Henry Strymgar-Wedderburn, head of the existing senior line of the family, claimed the office as hereditary.

Your tongue is coated. Your breath is foul. Headaches come and go. These symptoms show that your stomach is the trouble. To remove the cause is the first thing, and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will do that. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by W. F. Orlington & Co., and Richard Gibson.

GOLDSBORO

HEARD FROM

A Lady Who Lives in Goldsboro Joins in the Chorus of Praise for Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief."

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms."

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."

Just such doubtful symptoms, as those from which Mrs. Smith suffered, are the ones for which it will pay you to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It is at such times, when there is nothing to show, for certain, the real cause of the trouble, that you need a tonic, to give the body strength to throw off the illness that evidently threatens.

Take Cardui, when you are ill, with the ailments of your sex. Take Cardui as a tonic, to prevent illness, when you feel it coming.

Your druggist keeps it.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

BLAMED YOUNG WOMAN.

Robert Callister, a young automobile works mechanic, upon leaving yesterday in the custody of an officer to serve two years in the Iowa Reformatory for conspiracy to rob the bank at Lansingburg, Mich., blamed an unnamed sweetheart for his choosing a career of crime. "She was not satisfied with my salary of $25 a week," he said, "and had vague ideas of getting a millionaire. She kept urging me to earn or get more money. I tried, I failed, I became frantic. I walked the streets of Lansingburg searching for a chance to make a lot of money by a holdup or robbery, and finally decided to rob the Lansingburg bank." Callister's scheme was revealed to the police by a fellow-workman, whom he invited to be his accomplice. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

HANDSOME MONUMENT.

The largest monument in Arlington cemetery has just been completed beside the grave of Lieutenant Thomas E. Selfridge, of California, who was killed in an accident to the Wright aeroplane at Fort Myer, September 17, 1908. The monument is thirteen feet square at the base and the shaft rises forty feet from the ground. It was erected by A. E. Selfridge, of San Francisco, father of the lieutenant. The associates of the young officer wished to provide a monument and started to raise a fund. The father thanked them but said he wished to do it himself. The shaft stands on the brow of a hill overlooking the Potomac. Upon the west face is a bronze tablet bearing the following inscription:
First Lieutenant
Thomas E. Selfridge,
1st Regt. Field Artillery,
U. S. A.
Killed in the Service of the United States in an aerodrome
accident
September 17th, 1908.
Aged 26.

MAY BE SENSATION.

A sensational arrest may result from the fatal shooting Thursday night on a lonely highway in Charleston, S. C., of Miss Margaret Musgrove and the wounding of Clarence E. Grimshaw, a conductor on the Southern Railway. Although at first saying that the shooting was done by an unknown negro, the police are now considering other theories and it is expected that interesting developments may follow.

Miss Musgrove died at the City Hospital early yesterday morning, a few hours after the shooting. Grimshaw's wounds are not regarded as dangerous. The latter, in a statement made yesterday, declared that he was walking with the girl along the highway when a shadowy form burst out of some bushes and fired the shots which wounded him and led to the death of the girl. Miss Musgrove made an art-mortem statement which will be read to the coroner's jury today.

THE TELEPHONE.

The telephone business is growing and is becoming a necessity. The farmer should wake up to the fact that telephones are a necessity, and put in connections with business people of the town, and the people of the towns bringing in closer touch with the farmers, much of the business of the farmers could be transacted over the 'phone. For a few cents they could call up the merchant, lawyer, doctor, or any other person and transact business instead of traveling miles and miles during the busy season through the heat, cold or rain. They could do most of their buying and selling by 'phone. The time is fast coming when a family in town or country who hasn't a 'phone will get behind in business affairs, and thereby lose more money than it would cost to have a 'phone. (Blackshear, Ga., Times.)

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in the head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membrane that lines the air passages. It is made to overcome the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not take into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 59 Warren Street, New York.

Albaster, the sanitary wall coating, made in sixteen different tints. You can get it at Leadbeater's.
